

Letter from Kitsap County Elections

Dear Candidates and Committees,

Beginning with the 2026 election cycle, we are committed to expanding access to campaign information by using tools that help ensure your message reaches everyone in the community.

Video (or audio) statements are particularly valuable for voters with disabilities, especially those with vision impairments. If you prefer not to appear on camera, you may submit an audio-only statement, which will also be made available via a YouTube link.

In previous years, this guidelines book has included instructions for creating a video version of your candidate statement or ballot measure argument. Those videos were posted on YouTube, with a link available through the state’s online ballot access portal. While some candidates and committees have taken advantage of this option, many have not.

The instructions remain and are found on page 16.

Starting this year, we plan to include a direct link to each candidate’s or committee’s video statement in the online voters’ pamphlet.

The purpose of the video statement is to mirror the written statement as closely as possible—presenting the same content in a different format. Think of it the way you might think about reading a book versus listening to an audiobook: the message is the same, only the format changes.

We appreciate your willingness to serve voters and participate in this democratic process.

Sincerely,

Kitsap County Elections

Education: Elementary School-level education achieved through tutors. Trained in mathematics, trigonometry, surveying, drafting and map-making.

Community Service: Delegate to First Continental Congress (1774) and Second Continental Congress (1775).

Statement: The period for a new election of a citizen to administer this elected office being not far distant, and the time actually arrived when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person who is to be clothed with that important trust, it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed to beg your consent in returning to elected office.

In office I will promote as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened.

Be assured that this resolution has not been taken without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country. I have the consolation to believe that, while choice, prudence and the strange reality of my newfound immortality invite me to quit the political scene, patriotism does not forbid my return. I ask for your vote.

Local Voters' Pamphlet – Measures

Publishing a Local Voters' Pamphlet

A printed copy of the Local Voters' Pamphlet is mailed to all households within the election about four weeks prior to each Primary and General Election. For Special Elections pamphlet materials may be included within ballot packets instead of a separate pamphlet. Measure arguments appear in the printed Local Voters' Pamphlet. RCW 29A.32.210-280

Sample Argument

Ballot Measures

City of Port Bremerbo Island

Proposition No. 1

Duck City: Honoring Our Favorite Birds Official Ballot Title

The City of Port Bremerbo Island adopted Ordinance No. 2026-23 concerning the naming convention for new and existing streets under Chapter 99.99 RCW. To provide guidance and direction for the naming of new streets and the renaming of existing streets, the city would catalog all duck names and name all streets after the natural names for ducks or for duck characters in fictional and non-fictional stories.

Argument For the Measure

1 A Brilliant Idea

Port Bremerbo Island residents have the opportunity to distinguish themselves from every other city in America, or the world for that matter, by everyone in the city living on an avenue, street, lane or drive named after one of the most elegant, distinctive and beautiful animals so central to our Northwest existence: the duck.

2 Main Street to Mallard Street

Our city will be known around the world for the unique decision to honor the Surf Scoter, the Torrent Duck, the White-Cheeked Pintail as well as the Common Teal.

3 Brace Yourselves, Tourists Will Flock Here

The renaming of our streets has been estimated by the marketing firm Pochard, Showeler and Merganser to generate tourism that this city has never seen. Those estimates were made before several community events and duck-themed festivals were proposed.

4 It's All It's Quacked Up to Be

You will have a say in the naming of your own street. You'll be able to honor a Wigeon, an Eider, Teal or any of a number of varieties of ducks. You might also decide to name your street after Daffy, Daphne, Donald, Huey, Dewey, Louie, April, May, June, Howard, Ludwig von Drake, Mrs. Beakley or even Doofus Drake and Webby Vanderquack.

The conversations you will have in the coming years will be ones you will never forget. Vote Yes on Proposition 1.

Rebuttal to the Argument Against

The study cited here was vetted by a competing marketing firm (Ferdinand, Aflac and Edd) and the numbers remained consistent. This measure would cost each home less than one used-car purchase per month, so it's highly affordable. Ducks are icky. Say Yes to ducks. Say Yes to common sense. Vote Yes on Proposition 1.

Explanatory Statement

(Prepared by the Attorney for the district as prescribed by law.)

Proposition 1 asks voters to authorize the City of Port Bremerbo Island to begin the process of renaming every street in the city after every species of duck or after the names given ducks in movies, books and other stories, both fiction and non-fiction. State law generally allows local jurisdictions to name streets and other areas after essentially whatever fool they want, and cities have been loathe to provide overt direction. The results when it comes to streets include those named after honorable and dishonorable humans and animals and fish inferior to ducks. Implementation of the street name changes for existing streets would take place over five to ten years, the average lifespan of a Mallard. No funding is directly allocated as part of the measure, but the estimated cost to implement the transformation in its entirety is estimated to be approximately $178 billion, approximately $4.5 million per household over 10 years.

Argument Against the Measure

The city had the opportunity to do something truly ambitious for an animal that deserves this kind of recognition: the ferret. Instead the council was swayed by a special interest marketing firm looking to advance its own interests.

The city is estimating it will cost $178 billion to implement this idea, about $4.5 million per household. While we do have the means to support a worthwhile venture such as this, for many of our residents this might present an additional burden.

Study after study has shown that ferrets are the ideal drivers of human emotions and that we humans have yet to reward them adequately for the interesting lives they lead. Numerous presentation were made to the council emphasizing this as a well-established fact, but the council ignored reason, logic and common sense.

We have nothing against ducks and the insults hurled at opponents of this measure has been like water off one's back. We cannot support, however, such fiscal irresponsibility over such a common and regular feature of the Pacific Northwest.

We deserve better. Ferrets deserve better. Vote No on Proposition 1.

Rebuttal to the Argument For

We will distinguish ourselves alright, as the city that could have honored ferrets, but chose to honor ducks. What value is having a say in what my street is named if I have to choose between Pintail, QuackerJack and Fup? This isn't a choice, it's a sentence. Vote No on this measure and restore rationality to our city.

Dear Candidate:

The Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT) wishes to take this opportunity to advise political candidates about the placement of campaign signs and placards along state highways.

Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 47.42, the Highway Advertising Control Act, regulates signing on Interstate Highways, primary highways, and highways that are part of the Scenic and Recreational System. Signs erected on private property that are adjacent to these highways must comply with the Highway Advertising Control Act, rules contained in Washington Administrative Code (WAC) 468-66, and applicable local agency sign codes.

In accordance with WAC 468-66-050, Sign Classification and Specific Provisions, temporary political campaign signs are identified and regulated as a type of on-premise sign intended to express a property owner's endorsement of a political candidate or initiative. Prior to placing signs, WSDOT recommends checking with the property owner for approval and to determine property line locations. Campaign signs are allowed under the following regulations:

- 1) Temporary political campaign signs are limited to a maximum size of thirty-two square feet.
- 2) Temporary political campaign signs must be removed within ten days following the election.
- 3) Sign installers must have permission of the underlying property owner prior to placing signs.
- 4) Temporary political campaign signs are subject to all other applicable provisions of RCW 47.42 and WAC 468.66 that pertain to Type 3 on-premise signs.

In addition to the above restrictions, the erection of temporary political campaign signs within the right-of-way of all state highways is prohibited. Accordingly, signs placed within the right-of-way of any state highway are subject to removal by the Washington State Department of Transportation.

Also, RCW 47.36.180(1) states in part that it is unlawful to erect any structure, sign, or device visible from a city street, county road, or state highway that simulates any directional, warning, or danger sign likely to be mistaken for such a sign. Therefore, a campaign sign cannot be designated in a manner that resembles an official traffic control sign.

If you should have any questions about placement of campaign signs along state highways, please contact Tanya Joblonski at 360-705-7294 or email at outdooradvertisingcontrol@wsdot.wa.gov.

We sincerely hope that candidates for public office will observe the laws and regulations enacted to limit driver distraction, and protect and preserve the roadside beauty of our state. Thank you in advance for your courtesy in this matter.

Public Disclosure Rules

We hear you've decided to run for office...

• Step 1: Introduce yourself

You are a candidate once you publicly announce your candidacy, raise or spend money on your campaign, or file during declaration week (May 4-8, 2026).

Within two weeks, register your campaign and file your personal financial affairs statement (F-1). See instructions and exceptions to this rule in the link to the right.

Registration and reporting basics

• Step 2: Consider your (reporting) options

Chose mini or full reporting. Unlike full-reporting, mini-reporting campaigns can raise or spend no more than $7,000, or $500 from each contributor without filing regular reports with the PDC (but must maintain records.)

Choose wisely! Mini reporting campaigns that exceed limits may face enforcement action. Switching to full reporting requires PDC approval and retroactive reporting.

• Step 3: Learn your responsibilities

Full-reporting campaigns must regularly report contributions and expenditures and abide by contribution limits, and all campaigns must follow political advertising rules and other requirements under RCW 29B and WAC 390.

“The public’s right to know of the financing of political campaigns and lobbying and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret and private.”

Candidate Filing Questions

Q. Will I be in a Primary?

A. Let's address these in groups.

Candidates for U.S. Representative, State Legislature and Kitsap County Offices (not KPUD) will all be in the Primary, as all are partisan races. Even if there is only one candidate in your race, you will be in the August 4, 2026 Primary. The top two candidates advance to the General Election.

Candidates for Washington State Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Kitsap County District Court will be in the Primary if there are three candidates. If there two or one, they will move directly to the General Election.

Kitsap Public Utility District Commissioner candidates are in a Primary if there are three candidates. If there are two or fewer candidates they will appear on the General Election ballot.

PCO candidates appear on the Primary ballot if there is more than one candidate per party per precinct. If there is only one candidate per party per precinct the candidate is considered elected at the Primary and the term begins December 1.

Q. How is ballot order determined?

A. For the Primary, and in the General Election for candidates who do not appear on the Primary ballot, in Kitsap County it's a random lot draw of Scrabble tiles. For candidates who file with the Secretary of State, the state draws something else, but the concept is the same. Both drawings are at 5 p.m. on Friday, May 8, after candidate filing ends. Candidates are welcome to witness the drawing in person in our office at 619 Division Street in Port Orchard. We also livestream it at kitsap.gov/elections.

If you emerge from the Primary as one of the top-two candidates, the order is determined by the order of votes received. If you receive the most in the Primary, you appear first on the ballot in the General Election.

Writing Your Candidate Statement

Your candidate statement may be the one thing seen by the most voters, so it is not a stretch to say that it may be the most important piece of written work you do between now and Election Day. Here are some suggestions for you to help you turn in your best possible work.

Start Writing Now

If you are in the Primary, and most of you will be, your statement is due May 19. This may be a helpful way to approach it:

1. Write out the 100-word resume/bio section first—the section that includes your elected experience, your professional experience, your education and community service. While you're doing that you might begin to think about the things you want to say in your statement. Take notes.
2. Then write the 200-word statement.
3. Read it over.
4. Rewrite it.
5. Read it out loud to yourself.
6. Rewrite it again.
7. Reread it.
8. Rewrite it again.
9. Have someone you trust to give you good feedback read it.
10. Rewrite it.
11. Run it through a good spell and grammar checker.
12. Read it out loud one final time.

Let's not use an unlucky number, but now is a good time to SUBMIT it.

If you discover an error after you submit, if it's before May 19 we'll allow you to fix it, as long as you're not adding words that would push it above the word count.

Q. What happens if I withdraw too late?

A. Sometimes life circumstances change between the withdrawal deadline and Election Day. Nonetheless, state law is clear. Once the withdrawal deadline passes, your name goes on the ballot. The deadline to withdraw is 5 p.m., Monday, May 11, 2026.

Q. What happens in the voters' pamphlet if I withdraw too late?

A. Your name goes in the pamphlet. If you submit your statement to our office, as long as we can still meet print deadlines we will allow you to adjust your statement to let voters know you no longer intend to actively campaign for the position. State law is different for local positions than it is for state positions in that you are only allowed to speak about yourself. You may not endorse another candidate. You are allowed to write, "Please vote for a different candidate."

If you prefer, we can also remove your photo and statement and replace it with with text stating that no photo or statement was submitted.
