The 2025 reporting year reflects a transition period for certain land use and development projects review. The data above includes a mix of applications processed under updated review timeline mandates and applications submitted prior to those regulatory changes.

Several longer-duration project permits reflected in this report involve complex projects initiated before the new 2x6 review model was fully implemented in late 2025. These legacy project permits often span multiple review cycles, technical analyses, and phased decision-making, which significantly influence the overall average timelines.

Projects submitted and processed under the new 2x6 review framework are meeting statutory timelines.

As legacy project permits are resolved, and a greater share of project permits move entirely through the updated review process, reported timelines are expected to more closely reflect current performance.

Kitsap County remains committed to predictable review timelines, transparency in reporting, and continued process improvement.
